

MEET THE CREW

CAPTAIN LINDA

Captain Linda has worked on LCT and KMP ships as well as KLM ships and yachts. She loves the sea she considers as an extraordinary ecosystem. Seeing its beauty disappear under the plastic waste is very touching for her. One day, when she was on her way to Lombok with her boat, in the middle of the sea appeared a shape like a big fish. At first, she thought it was a whale, but it turned out to be a huge pile of plastic...

That's why when she got the news that a ship was going to operate in Bali to collect plastic waste in the sea, she was immediately interested. She wants to be part of this project so that waste, especially plastic, does not pollute the sea anymore and that the ecosystems never disappear. She is passionate about working for the ocean that she loves so much.

PAK HERMAN

Operator of the Mobula 8, Pak Herman worked for SY Bali Dream, owned by PT. Bahari Global Mandiri. Since childhood, he has been fascinated by the beauty of the sea, loves to eat seafood and has always wanted to work on a ship so he could travel around the world. But now he deplores the fact that our sea is polluted by our behaviour, and always asks the crews he works with and the passengers not to throw waste overboard.

An experience he will never forget and which saddened him greatly: a guest on his boat was looking forward to discovering the paradise island he had promised to show her during a trip. On arrival, the once beautiful island turned out to be overrun with plastic. His guest then asked him: "Is this what you call a paradise island, an island full of plastic waste?" It was a very sad experience that left a deep impression on him, as he later discovered that many islands that were once beautiful are now inhabited by plastic.

He is very interested in working with The SeaCleaners to keep our ocean clean and also help preserve the environment.
